"Eknath Shinde to become The Next Chief Minister Of Maharashtra"

The 10-day-long Maharashtra political potboiler, Eknath Shinde took over as CM, with BJP's Devendra Fadnavis as his deputy. The development, however, came as a surprise, as it was widely expected that Fadnavis, a former CM, would succeed Thackeray, with the rebel Sena leader taking over the deputy's chair. This is because the former CM has earlier said he was ready to quit of the Shinde faction could ensure that a "Shiv Sainik" would be there next chief minister. Exactly a week after he took oath as the twentieth Chief Minister of Maharashtra, Eknath Shinde on Thursday officially took charge at Mantralaya, the State Government's administrative headquarters in Mumbai.

The Chairman of UGC (University Grants commission) M. Jagadesh Kumar has announced that all the Central Universities will give admission on behalf of (CUET) Central University Entrance test for the 2021-22 batch. The question of the entrance test will be set on 12 class subject's level and it mandatory for all the 45 Central Universities to follow it. The common entrance exam will held in first week of July applications will begin in April and exam will be held online. It will only apply on the central running universities like Delhi Universities, Jawaharlal Nehru University. In this the marks of class 12th will be not counted. UGC says that the central universities will fix the common eligibility criterion for test. This test will conduct by (NTA) The National Testing Agency. Actually this rule is announced by (UGC) because in India there are lots of boards present like CBSE, Bihar board, Haryana board etc. sometime those children who don't deserve to take admission in central universities they are admitted but those child who are actually deserve the admission so that child have to compete a lot to entre in Universities so UGC says to give equal opportunities to all. The students are saying that it very nice to have a common entrance exam so the children don't have run for other exams. And can reach in 45 universities by only one exam. They can save time and prepare for something else. All the seats of the universities can also fill because earlier one student give entrance exam of different universities and if he/she can crack that exam than they took admission in only one university but the other seats was blank for him. Reservation will remain same for the economics backward classes. But the question arises that "are we ready for CUET"?

The Agnipath Scheme for the Armed Forces

Under the new scheme, around 46,000 soldiers between the ages of 17.5 and 21 years will be recruited into the three services this year. The Union Cabinet on 14 June had approved a recruitment scheme for Indian youth to serve in the Armed Forces. The scheme is called AGNEEPATH and the youth selected under this scheme will be known as Agniveers. AGNEEPATH allows patriotic and motivated youth to serve in the Armed Forces for a period of four years. According to the government, AGNEEPATH scheme has been designed to enable a youthful profile of the Armed Forces. It will provide an opportunity to the youth who may be keen to don the uniform by attracting young talent from the society who are more in tune with contemporary technological trends and plough back skilled, disciplined and motivated manpower into the society. As for the Armed Forces, it will enhance the youthful profile of the Armed Forces and provide a fresh lease of "Josh" and "Jazba" whilst at the same time bring about a transformational shift towards a more tech savvy Armed Forces – which is indeed the need of the hour. It is envisaged that average age profile of Indian Armed forces would come down by about 4-5 years by implementation of this scheme. According to the government, the nation stands to immensely benefit by infusion of highly inspired youth with deeper understanding of self-discipline, diligence and focus that would be adequately skilled and will be able to contribute in other sectors. The dividends of a short military service to the nation, society and the youth of the nation are immense. The youth joining the armed forces under Agnipath scheme will be known as Agniveers.

Agniveers will be given an attractive customised monthly package along with Risk and Hardship allowances as applicable in the three services. On completion of the engagement period of four years, Agniveers will be paid one time 'SevaNidhi' package which shall comprise their contribution including accrued interest thereon and matching contribution from the Government equal to the accumulated amount of their contribution including interest.

The "Seva Nidhi" will be exempt from Income Tax. There shall be no entitlement to gratuity and pensionary benefits. Agniveers will be provided non-contributory Life Insurance Cover of Rs 48 lakh for the duration of their engagement period in the Indian Armed Forces. During this period of service to the nation, the Agniveers will be imparted with various military skills and experience, discipline, physical fitness, leadership qualities, courage and patriotism. Agniveers, on completion of the four-year tenure in the prime of their youth, will be mature and self-disciplined with the realisation to become better version of himself/herself both professionally as also personally. The avenues and opportunities that will open up for their progress in the civil world after Agniveer tenure would certainly be a big plus towards nation building.

The 'Seva Nidhi' of approximately Rs 11.71 lakh would aid the Agniveer to pursue his/her future dreams without the financial pressure, which is normally the case for young people from the financially deprived strata of society. The individuals, selected for enrolment in the Armed Forces as regular cadre, would be required to serve for a further engagement period of minimum 15 years and would be governed by the existing terms and conditions of service of Junior Commissioned Officers/Other Ranks in Indian Army and their equivalent in Indian Navy and Indian Air Force and that of Non Combatant enrolled in the Indian Air Force, as amended from time-to-time.

The educational qualification for Agniveers will remain as in vogue for enrollment in various categories. (For example: For entry into General Duty (GD) soldier, the educational qualification is Class 10).

Menstruation does not make women dirty..... Period!

Hm, shh!! Don't say that word. Refer to it as "those days" or "girls problem". This is what we are taught in our house, in our schools and everywhere we go. When we discuss menstruation with males, we feel ashamed.

But have you wondered, being a female, have you ever wondered why we are ashamed of saying I'm on periods, I'm menstruating to other females? The simple answer to this is the upbringing we are having in a society where our mentality is that menstruation blood is impure. We have taken birth from that, if that is impure our very birth is impure and the creation is impure. Menstruation is a female-only phenomenon. However, taboos and myths have long surrounded it, excluding women from many facets of socio-cultural life. The subject has remained taboo in India until this day. Menstruation taboos exist in many societies, and they influence girls' and women's emotional well-being, mindset, and lifestyle, as well as their health. Menstruation is still regarded as filthy and disgusting in many regions of India's culture. The origins of this legend may be traced back to Vedic times. As they are menstruating, many girls and women face constraints in their everyday lives. The main limitation for urban females during menstruation is not visiting the "puja" chamber, whereas the main restriction for rural girls during menstruation is not entering the kitchen. It is also forbidden for menstruating girls and women to give prayers or handle sacred texts. Moreover, women are not allowed to sit on the couch or sleep on the bed during menstruation. The cultural views about impurity connected with menstruation are also at the root of this misconception. It is also thought that menstruating women are unclean and unsanitary and that the food they cook or touch may get tainted as a result. According to a 2011 research by Kumar and Srivastava participating women also indicated that their bodies release a unique fragrance or ray during menstruation, which causes stored food to spoil. Many cultures forbid menstruating women from bathing or washing their hair for the first three days of their cycle. In addition to this Menstrual blood is also generally thought to be utilized in witchcraft by black magic practitioners to perform gloomy spells. But are we aware of why women were not allowed to do household chores, cook, pray, or step out of the house? The main reason for this was that earlier, there were no such sanitary napkins were there. They used to have clothes, ashes, etc which was uncomfortable. and during that time some females have to go from severe cramps and hormonal changes so to give them rest during their menstruation cycle they were asked to do nothing. but gradually, these practices are used as a discriminatory process. It is past time for us to recognize that menstruation is a human issue, not just a female one. It is also critical to recognize that this is a hygiene issue rather than a purity one. Some schools now have sensitization programs for female students aged 9 to 14, in which they are educated about menstruation and the need of maintaining cleanliness during periods. Nonetheless, they are instructed to keep it hidden from the boys in their class. Whereas Due to a lack of cleanliness and privacy, a high proportion of females drop out of school around puberty. People need to recognize and realise that it is a natural physiological function of women, in my opinion. Periods aren't anything to be embarrassed of. In fact, not getting periods regularly or not having them at all is a health problem. Due to a lack of cleanliness and privacy, a high proportion of females drop out of school around puberty. In India, several communities celebrate a woman's journey to womanhood. Since 2014, World Menstrual Hygiene Day has been observed on the 28th of May to emphasize the importance of excellent menstrual hygiene. Parents and teachers may play a critical role in starting conversations about this issue and removing stereotypes about it. Boys should be encouraged to join in such talks since educating them is as vital. We must create a society in which every woman feels open and comfortable discussing menstruation in public with anyone. Even now, we are hesitant to discuss menstruation in public; nevertheless, this is not our fault; we learnt this from our culture, which taught us to keep the menses a well-guarded secret. As a result, everything that is a myth and taboo in our culture must be disproved right now!

Drunken young India

Today the youth of the country is getting caught in the grip of drugs. One reason for this is lack of stamina. Young people these days lose their courage very quickly, as a result of which they go into depression and then they get caught in the grip of drugs. Some youngster thinks when they smoke cigarettes and hukkah people consider them cool and some of youngster getting inspired of them and they also start smoking. The second big reason is that nowadays intoxication is becoming a fashion and it has also become a fashion after falling in the wrong company, the biggest weakness of the youth is that people start taking drugs Even after seeing others. There is also a reason why children hide things from their parents because their parents are not having friendly behavior with their children so they do not share their problems with them. Due to which he starts going towards wrong things like drug addictions and it becomes a cause of problems in the future, such as diseases like cancer may have to be faced. ### When Rashmi Anand spoke of surviving domestic violence, she inspired others to do the same.

"It has always been like this. Something ticks him off, and he would start to hit me. He would punch me in the face, use a belt or even choke me at times. I would yell and beg to let go of me. My children would get terrified. And then, after the debacle, he would come back and cry and apologize. He would manipulate my children by begging in front of them. He would ask them to convince me to give him a chance. I would give in. He would then be the best husband ever until something else ticks him off."

These are the words of a woman who has been the sufferer of domestic violence by her husband. She knows she is suffering. She knows that what happened to her is excruciatingly painful and wrong. But she is still living with her husband. Living with fear is now her new lifestyle. Domestic Violence is a crime in a developing and free society like India. Husbands, Fathers or other family members have attacked every third woman in India after 15 years, according to the National Family Health Survey. Women, on behalf of children, the family or the community, often, continue to suffer such abuse, sometimes, even if they are financially independent. And then, there are a few other women who choose to oppose this and fight for what they believe in. Rashmi Anand is among the eventual ones.

Rashmi Anand is a sufferer of domestic abuse for 10 years by her husband. This not only gutted and scarred her life but also her children's life that lived in trauma and depression and constant fear. Taking her own stand, believing in herself and affirming herself that she and her kids deserve a better life she walked away from her abusive husband. She had two small kids and no financial aid. Today she writes books for children and adults, counselling women who have been through domestic abuse that they deserve a better life and a man cannot define their lives and the women today need to learn that they are enough and they do not deserve to be treated inhumanly. She has counselled over hundreds of women voluntarily at the crime against women of Delhi police at Nanakpura, New Delhi.

Today Rashmi runs her own NGO- WOMAN OF THE ELEMENT'S TRUST- which works with the women and children who have undergone domestic abuse and helps them recover from the trauma. She has been on social recognition indicates on CNN IBN, NDTV's Salaam Zindagi, Doordarshan, Rajya Sabha television, and Lok Sabha television, amongst others. Her story was also featured in Season one of Satyamev Jayate. Furthermore, her adventure has been covered in articles and documentaries internationally — Mexico, Sweden, France and New Zealand, among others. The Delhi Police 2010 calendar turned into primarily based on her first book and on her existence. Rashmi has also been featured in the book "WOMEN OF PURE WONDER", a special edition from Vodafone and Roli Books showcasing the lifestyles and work of 50 wonderful ladies of India. An issue of the Chicken Soup for the Soul inspirational series of books includes the story of her existence, entitled 'Awakening'. The published author of 13 books on gender violence, love, abundance, joy, desire, the human spirit, lifestyles and loss of life, Rashmi also writes kids' books.

and get entangled in it and they won't be able to get out of it and it becomes very difficult and there is also a reason that the breakup of joint family also has a deep impact on the youth. Today, due to nuclear family, youth are not able to get culture and love, in order to overcome loneliness, youth get connected to mobile internet and they also get addicted to drugs. So, to get out of this, love and moral education of parents is very much needed and the government should also stop the sale of drugs specially in between youngster and parents should spend more time with their child and develop close family ties because share a problem with their families are less likely to become drug addicts. Eating balanced diet and exercising regularly is another way of preventing drug and alcohol addiction. Some people, particularly teenagers and young adults, experiment with drugs just to portray a cool image in front of their. Staying busy is also one of the ways for prevent addiction of wrong things like drugs, alcohol, cigarettes, etc. drug addiction can be treated. ### SHE IS A SUPERHERO

EVERY NIGHT SHE FINDS A NEW LOVER IN HER ROOM TO MAKE LOVE TO HER?
BUT IS IT ACTUALLY LOVE? OR THE REALITY IS SOMETHING ELSE HIDDEN BEHIND THIS LUSH ADORATION.
SHE SCREAMS IN PAIN, HER MOUTH IS STUFFED WITH THE DIRTY
HANDKERCHIEFS.
EVERY NIGHT A NEW TERRITORY IS MARKED.
HER EARS ARE FILLED WITH THE SULTRY

WORDS.
HER PUPILS GAZE INTO THE DARKNESS.
BENEATH HER SKIN, TINGLES THE FLICKERING FLAMES.
THE WILD CLAWS SCRATCHING HER BODY, LEAVING RED TALLY MARKS ALL OVER HER BODY.
STREAKING HER SPINE
BRUTALIZING HER BODY WHEN SHE WHEN BEGS FOR IT.
UNDER FADED MILKY TWILIGHT,
HER HELPLESSNESS GLOWS.
DIFFERENT MEN, DIFFERENT NIGHT
BUT THE REASON TENDS TO BE UNCHANGED.
WAX POETIC AND CRESCENT MOON.
HER NEED IS MONEY, YOUR NEED IS SATISFACTION.
AND YOU CALL HER A PROSTITUTE JUST BECAUSE HER MEANS OF EARNING HER DAILY NEEDS IS DIFFERENT THAN YOURS?
SHE IS A SUPERHERO WHO PREVENTS RAPE.
PERHAPS, HER QUITE MOUTH AND SHY EYES FAIL ONCE AGAIN TO TAKE HER OWN STAND IN THE SOCIETY YOU ALL PRAY.

उठे तो थे तुम हाथों से, सूरज पिघलाने को,
उठे तो थे अस्तित्व स्वयं का , दुनिया को दिखाने को।
असफलता तो एक आईना है, पौरुष दिखलाने को,
असफलताओं को मित्र बनाओ , सफल गीत गाने को।
दे मारो एक तीर लक्ष्य पर, सफलता तुम्हें मिलेगी,
नाद उठेगा, गगन झुकेगा ,ये धरती तुमसे ही हिलेगी।

फौजी

मेरी ज़िंदगी में भी ऐसा मुकाम आए,
काश मेरी ज़िंदगी मेरे वतन के काम आए।
जो थोड़ा सा भी हमें सुकून है,
इसके पीछे वहीं वालों का खून है।
जेब के छोटे से बटुए में परिवार समेट कर रखते हैं,
और दिल में सारा हिन्दुस्तान रखते हैं।
वतन की मोहब्बत में खुद को तपाए बैठे हैं,
वतन के लिए शर्त मौत से लगाए बैठे हैं।
न खौफ होता है मौत का ना आरजू होती है जन्नत की,
घर को याद कर वो भी रोते हैं,
हम तो चैन से सो जाते हैं, ना जाने वो कब सोते हैं।
ज़माने भर में मिलते हैं आशिक कई,
मगर वतन से खूबसूरत कोई सनम नहीं होता है।
मखमल में लिपटकर मरे हैं कई,
मगर तिरंगे से खूबसूरत कोई कफन नहीं होता है।
